

Our teacher is having a touchdown party in the kitchen.

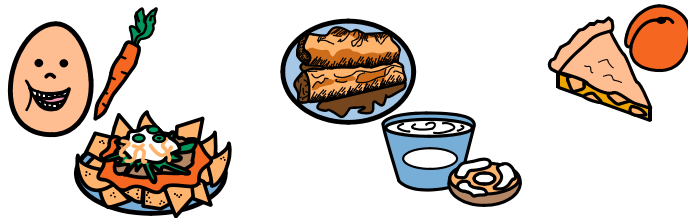

I marched into class with my pitcher of hot chocolate and matches.

I fell, cut my arm and broke my leg.

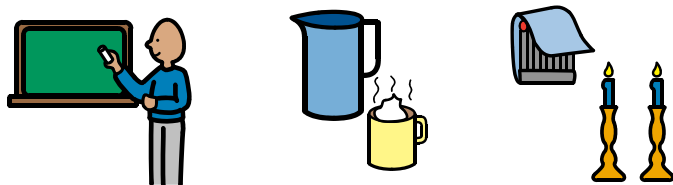

We'll have crunchy nachos, enchiladas with cream cheese, and peach pie.

I got stitches on my arm and crutches to help me walk.

Teacher asked me to bring a pitcher of hot chocolate and matches to light the candles.

I was so sad I missed my teacher's touchdown party.
